

Peter König

Peter König, born in 1965, is a trained retail salesman and worked in retail from 1980 to 1993 before becoming a union secretary at the German Salaried Employees' Union (DAG). Since 2001, following the merger of the DAG with four other trade unions to form the United Services Union (ver.di), Peter König has been working as a trade union secretary for ver.di. Peter König was also a member of the supervisory board of Adler Modemärkte GmbH until April 2025.

Apart from these roles, Peter König has not held any other positions in administrative, management, or supervisory bodies outside this group in the last five years and is not a partner in any partnership outside the group.
